LOOKING AHEAD . . .

with the Joseph F. Martin Co.

FIRST

The cautious man, before he steps ahead, will take time to look behind him, to evaluate the path over which he has traveled, and to appreciate those of his fellows who have assisted him on his way.

With this new fall catalogue, we of the Joseph F. Martin Co., look back upon the twenty years that are behind us, and from volumes of satisfying recollections are able easily to discern those factors which have brought us so far in the horticultural world.

Faithful adherence to strict policies of ready and courteous service, and the ability to produce a perennial that is unexcelled anywhere, have gained for us the prestige that has propelled our enterprise to the point where we are recognized as one of America's foremost wholesale hardy plant nurseries.

But paramount in importance, we realize that we owe our every advance and progression to those who have been our customers in the past. There is not a finer group of people anywhere than those with whom we have been privileged to associate and to them we tender our most sincere appreciation.

THEN

And now, with a score of years behind us, we look forward to another period of service with the same youthful vigor and willingness to work that has characterized our entire organization since its inception.

To those of you whom we will be privileged to meet this fall, we extend our heartiest invitation to become one of us—remembering that the Joseph F. Martin Co. is not bounded by the lines that define its acreage but only by the customers that it serves.

With our friends and those that we shall know in the future, we look ahead to the new and greater era on the horticultural horizons ahead. Let's advance together—

The Most Popular Forcing Plants

Our long experience in this particular branch of our business has enabled us to select the proper plants for forcing and also prepare them for you. Before shipping, this material is properly frost cured and handled at times best adapted for the purpose. Most all hardy plants for forcing should be started off in cool temperature for about two weeks and later increased to regular Carnation temperature.

We are listing on these two pages the popular varieties together with cultural hints. For complete descriptions, please consult our regular alphabetical listing. If you wish further information, we will be very glad if you will call on us. May we suggest that you place your order early so that we can make reservations of this especially prepared forcing material for shipment at the proper time. This will assure you additional profits during the dull winter months.

Iris Kaempferi Japanese Iris

MODERN ORCHIDS OF THE GARDEN

For many years the trade throughout the country has recognized the unparalleled excellence of our Japanese Iris list, and the fine quality of our plants. This year again the list is the best that can be had in Japanese Iris. Extremely important is the fact that we have been favored with the best possible weather and soil conditions for their perfect development. The most technical growing culture could not do for them what nature did in this past growing season. The Iris which we offer are not to be confused with over-aged, run-out material, much of which is being unloaded on the market at the present time. All of our Japanese Iris are without exception, young, vital, vigorous stock of a generous size, and will give you an abundance of flower the first season after planting—the perfect results which you have come to expect from Japanese Iris prepared for you by the Joseph F. Martin Co.

OCHRULEUCA IRIS

New California Type
For Cut Flowers

Recently it was brought to our attention that this type of Iris is of great value for cut flower purposes. We purchased our plants in California where for many years these Iris commanded high prices on the cut flower markets. When our plants were in full flower the first part of June, we sent a few bunches to the wholesale market and they immediately sold at a high price. All indications are that they will command a good price for many years. They are exceptionally hardy and will grow in fairly heavy or loamy soil; moisture is beneficial. We are pleased to offer you the following range of colors at attractive prices.

Every year the Hardy Vinca or Trailing Myrtle enjoys a very good demand. This is due of course to their beautiful glossy, evergreen foliage. Where nothing else will grow on sloping land or hillsides in partial or dense shade or in open sunshine, the Vincas will always make a very desirable ground cover and they also produce flowers. Florists who have cemetery business can make good use of Vincas for planting on graves, also in vases and hanging baskets. A nice planting of these is always profitable.
